WILLOUGHBY, Emma

1824-1890

The daughter of William and Elizabeth WILLOUGHBY (née GREGORY), Emma was born in Banbury, Oxon in 1824 and baptised at the parish church on 21 Mar 1824. After leaving school she went into service for a John STIMPSON in Northampton and then moved to Blackheath, Kent to help her uncle after the death of his wife. She gave birth to her first child who was brought up by his grandparents at Preston Capes. She left Blackheath after her uncle's remarriage and went back into service at Daventry. Emma became pregnant again, lost her job as a result and gave birth to another child in Daventry Workhouse in 1848. Emma managed to find employment as a cook at one of the many inns in the town, while Joseph was looked after by a couple of local people. Emma became pregnant again, lost her job and so was back in the workhouse in 1851. She had another illegitimate child, named Thomas Abbott and in 1855. She was in the workhouse again having a fourth illegitimate child who she named Elizabeth. Emma married John COCKERILL at Daventry on 12 Apr 1860. Her husband died in 1864 and Emma and her children moved to Rose Court, Daventry, an area of housing for the poor. She had another illegitimate daughter in 1866 so Emma took in a sixteen year old lodger named George MASTERS to provide additional income. At this time she worked as a nurse and her children as outworkers in the shoe making industry a few minutes' walk from their home. On 10 Nov 1873, at the age of forty nine, Emma married Thomas MARRIOTT, a bricklayer's labourer and worked as a laundress. She died in 1890 at the age of 71.

WILLOUGHBY, Harriett 1831-1916

The daughter of William and Elizabeth WILLOUGHBY (née GREGORY), Harriett was baptised at Preston Capes on 20 Mar 1831. She must have found work in or around the Military Barracks at Weedon as she became pregnant by a William ALLINSON, a drummer in the 48th Regiment of Foot, and moved with him when he was stationed at Southsea, Hants. There is no record of their marriage but she gave birth to her first child later in 1851. Upon her husband's posting to Wales, Harriett moved to Winchester where she gave birth to another daughter and later joined him on his transfer to the Royal Monmouth Militia in 1854. Upon his discharge in 1855, they moved to Pembroke Dock, Pems where he became a permanent member of staff of the Militia. Her husband died of tuberculosis in 1861 and was buried with full military honours. However, Harriett was already pregnant with their seventh child so with little option left to her, she handed her children into the care of a William and Mary BIBEY at Ross, Monmouth and moved to Aston, Warks. She 'married' Samuel PUGH about 1865 although again there is no recorded marriage. Harriett move many times in the Birmingham area over the next 30 years and died of acute bronchitis and senile debility on 19 Jan 1916 at the age of 84.
